

Tell your Aunt Matilda
all about the Sylvania
Blue Dot Flashcube.

She'll remember you in her will.

What Aunt Matilda doesn't know about cameras can fill your gadget bag. So when she asks you for advice, make it easy on her. Tell her about new Flashcube cameras and Sylvania Blue Dot Flashcubes.

Tell her the Flashcube is a complete, precise light source. And because each of the four reflectors is used as an integral part of the lamp, its light output can be rated in beam candlepower seconds. The same as with your electronic flash unit. Each reflector/lamp unit emits 2000 center beam candlepower seconds.

All Aunt Matilda has to do is pop a Flashcube on her camera, and click, click, click, click. Four flash pictures in as little as five seconds. (Can your expensive electronic flash unit go that fast?) She can now get all those great shots that used to get away. And you, her favorite nephew, told her how to do it. Will she remember you in her will? Maybe.

Will she take great flash pictures? Yes.
